Building A Strong

Immune System

The immune system is the body's natural defence system that helps fight infections

The Immune System

The immune system attacks and destroys substances such as bacteria and viruses that they recognize as foreign and different from the body's normal healthy tissues.

Understanding the Immune System

FOREVER®

Tonsils & Thymus

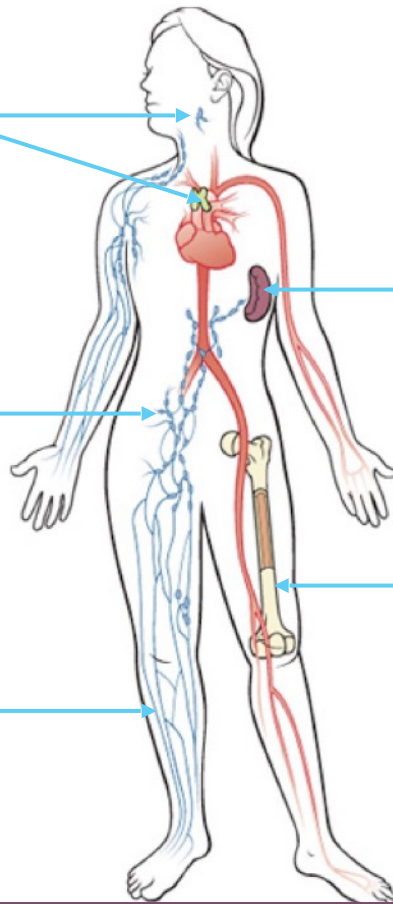

which make antibodies

The Lymphatic System

filters lymph fluid as it flows through them, trapping bacteria, viruses, and other foreign substances, which are then destroyed

White Blood Cells

attack and destroy infections caused by bacteria, virus, or other organism.

Spleen

filters blood by removing old or damaged blood cells and platelets and helps the immune system by destroying bacteria and other foreign substances

Bone Marrow

produces red & white blood cells and platelets

Components of the Immune System

The health of the immune system is greatly impacted by:

- Emotional state
- Stress levels
- Environmental challenges
- Lifestyle & Dietary habits
- Bad Nutritional habits

What weakens our Immune System

- Exercise regularly
- Eliminate drinking and smoking
- Reduce stress and get proper amount of sleep
- Eat a diet high in fruits & vegetables
- Maintain a healthy weight
- Maintain healthy blood pressure
- Nutritional /Supplement support
